

Sabrina Carpenter, The Middle of Starting Over

Cast out to sea
Drifting with the time
And no way of finding me
Now, let 'em free
Nothing but those skies
Paradise in front of me

Awake from this dream
I hold my breath and just believe

Tired of all the troubles
They're a waste of my time
All I wanna fight
Gonna leave it behind
Taking on fate
Now I'm ready to fly
I'm in the middle of starting over
Back to the beginning
Gonna hit rewind
Just to do it all
To get it right this time
Rock is a penny
Just turn them into dimes
I'm in the middle of starting over
I'm in the middle of starting over
Ohhh [x14]

Alone in a room
Tearing down the walls
Painting over scars and bruises
Now, this is home
Filling up with love
And make the best of something new, yeah

As hard as it seems
I hold my breath and just believe

Tired of all the troubles
They're a waste of my time
All I wanna fight
Gonna leave it behind
Taking on fate
Now I'm ready to fly
I'm in the middle of starting over
Back to the beginning
Gonna hit rewind
Just to do it all
Rock is a penny
I'm in the middle of starting over

The colors in the stars
Seem a little brighter
Tomorrow isn't far away!
Through the heart is hard
I'm working towards a happy ending

Tired of all the troubles

I'm in the middle of starting over
A chance to do it over
Life is a penny
Turn them into dimes
I'm in the middle of starting over
Tired of all the troubles
All I wanna fight
Taking on fate
Now I'm ready to fly
I'm in the middle of starting over
