

Saint deamon, Run for your life

The seals will break
One by one
Trials will rise
For all mankind
No one knows
What the future will bring
And whos got the key to our misery
But if we hold on
To what we believe
Together we will be strong
Write our own history
Run, run for your life
It comes a storm to ruin our lives
Prepare to fight all through the night
I see the lightning in the sky
Run, run for your life
The thunder of darkness is to come
I've seen a sign written in time
The judgment day will soon arise
An angels voice
Whispered in my ear
Soon death and defeat
Will come by fear
But if we hold on
To what we believe
Together we will be strong
Write our own history
Run, run for your life
It comes a storm to ruin our lives
Prepare to fight all through the night
I see the lightning in the sky
Run, run for your life
The thunder of darkness is to come
I've seen a sign written in time
The judgment day will soon arise