

Salamandra, Fool's Story

Once upon a time
not long ago the world woke up one day to a fool's display

Few of us put on fine clothes and painted faces with smile to disguise a frowning face and confuse all people around

Beware of creepy clowns
beware of dirty liars
be the one who keeps control over your life

We will have to shut the circus down we will have to say goodbye to a false frown.

over your life

Choir
a painted faces with smile
beware of dirty liars
over your life
