

Salamandra, The Singer / Remember the Legend

I cannot believe what is going on
With all the people of our land
I wish they had been not treated like
Mere tools and soldiers doomed to die

Why should we suffer evil will
Of cruel magician Skarremar
He is not a king worth sacrifice
Of hundreds soldiers, thousands men

Here comes our vengeance day
Bad powers will not reverse
The fate that is written down in our hearts

Their might will soon be gone
Our men will come back home
And peace will reign over our land

Our vengeance day will soon be
We know the prophecy
We know the way which the legend goes

Dark powers will dissolve
In flash of mighty sword
Held by the courageous, chosen one
