

Salman Khan, Sun Zara (English Translation)

Listen carefully, darling

Today, a voice is calling out from the silence.

My heart races; it's saying something to you.

Just listen....

Listen, darling....

The shadows of past moments have come to rest here;
memories of what you said come blazing into my mind...

Tears have frozen beneath a red sheet of lashes.

I can't take my eyes off yours.

Tell me: in my helpless state, what can I do?

My heart races; it's saying something to you.

Listen carefully, darling...

Today, from out of the silence...

Just listen, darling...

I'll kiss you and steal your sorrows away.

I'll bring you every happiness,

hide all my restlessness deep in my heart,

focus all my desires onto you.

my prayers have melted on your frightened lips.

My heart races; it's saying something to you.

Listen carefully, darling

Today, from out of the silence...

listen, darling...listen....

Listen, darling...listen carefully..
