

Sandra, Just like breathing

I open my eyes and I take you in first day of my new life I am alive my heartbeat begins you ebb I flow
you need I know
you're calling I'm already there
just like breathing
something that I was born to do I've always been a part of you
just like breathing
every day I need you to live
like breathing
we don't have to speak oh no, I feel you inside I knew you without a word just like a bird knows how to fly
you ebb I flow
just like breathing
just like breathing...
