

Saxon, We Are Strong

Somebody gets all the breaks, but it's never you
Maybe today is the day you'll pull through
Everyone's chasing their dream at the end of the rainbow
You gotta follow your heart, that's where you have to go

We are strong (*)
We will survive
We are strong
We will survive

Battered and torn
Ride out the storm
Break through the clouds of night
And head on home

Life keeps kicking you down, but you come back for more
You take all the knocks pick yourself up off the floor
Everyone's looking for someone to hold in the night
Believe in yourself, stand tall and take up the fight

We are strong (*)
We will survive
We are strong
We will survive

(Repeat *)
