Schaeffer, I love you with a crash

He says I love you, with a crash. The call it drops, her phone falls to her lap. His head hits the windshield and everything turns black, everything turns black. So she tries a quick call back. His phone must be jacked. Shell just call again later.

Shell just call again later.
As he looks up they say, Youre gonna be fineTell that driver to drive! I love you. (with a crash)
