

Schuyler Fisk, You're Deadly

I'm swimming drowning in my bed
it's quiet
i'm in over my head

you're deadly
you're deadly
you're deadly
you're killin' me

I shoulda known
I shoulda known
I shoulda known
but I couldn't see

cause it's hard enough
it's hard enough
that I stood so still while you stole my love

and I don't ever want to think about you i'm ashamed to say I ever knew you why don't you just disappear?

stop smiling
you're not fooling me
i'm waiting, patiently

just say you're sorry
you're sorry

sorry you did this

you wish you could take it back
you could take it back
get down on your knees

I don't ever want to dream about you all I want is to forget about you
