

Scream Maker, Glory for the Fools

Promised me all the power and the glory
They promised me that they would do it all for me
The only thing that they asked me in return was Sell us your soul and bow down to Him

Told me lies about following my desires
The price they ask ain't really a big deal
Don't you believe in eternal fire
Old fairy tales of heaven and hell

Why are we livin'
In race for emptiness
Why are we livin' like this?
Why are we hiding
Don't want to know the truth
Why are we hiding
I long so much for you

Our souls in the rain
Left alone and betrayed
No one to care for them
To show the way

Our mistakes drive us mad
Searched for life, we found death
Now we are through

Why are we livin'...

All we've planned fall to pieces
Our pride torn apart
And the night's calling us
To the one we once bowed

And they laugh at us now
That they tricked us into that
Hellish night
That they made us blind

Why are we livin'...
