

Scream Maker, Stand Together

Look in these empty eyes
Of bodies without soul
Someone has stolen it
And replaced it with a stone
See that mechanic moves
And words-producing mouth
No individuality
Just crowd
The higher wisdom lost
The spirit too is gone
No help comes from above
Seems like we're here alone
Keep smiling - your advise
Nobody really knows
What has been planned
For us all

Where are those dreams
Where are those dreams
That made us strong
That built this world
That sent our ships across the see

Is there a light somewhere
A guide to show the way
The path we're treading now
Will lead us to the end
I'm loosing strenght and dreams
Once colourful now dead
I'm sick and tired waiting
It doesn't change a thing

Where are those dreams
Where are those dreams
What made us strong
That built this world
That sent our ships across the see
So tell me where are those dreams
Why – why are we here?
Civilisation dies but hope
Hope never will

Let's stand together
Let's change our ways today
Let's cast our demons away
