

Sebastian Bach, You Bring Me Down

I wait for you to sacrifice
Hopin again, again
You'll raise me up again to life
You will save me know

I am less than I have been
This is the falling
Become nothing man again
You just break me down

There is nothing more in this life to take away
Until my dying day
You bring me down
You bring me down
You bring me down

I opened up another door
Looking for you there
No one can light the darkened room
Who will save me now?
Who will save me now?

After everything that you tried to put me through
All you ever do
Is bring me down
You bring me down
You bring me down, down

After everything that you tried to put me through
All you ever do
Is bring me down
You bring me down

You just bring me down
You just bring me down
You just bring me down
