

Secret Discovery, A Simple Impression

Don't have to hide your face, believe me
It's just the storm my child and nothing more
Don't be afraid of the trees
Coming down to touch
You know I keep you warm, warm and secure
You know I keep you warm
It's a simple impression
Just a visual obsession in your mind
It's a simple impression
That destroys what I love
What do you see my child
Frightening you
Your skin it feels so cold, and I shiver
We're getting close to home, in some minutes more
But I don't feel your breath
You're dying
You did ignore my words
It's a simple impression
Just a visual obsession in your eye
It's a simple impression
That destroys what I love
