

Senses Fail, Can't Be Saved

Follow your bliss
It reads on my chest
I know I got it tattooed for a reason
(Why Can't I Just Hold It True?)
Cause I'm still crashing all the funerals of these people that I never knew

I'm stuck in a coma, stuck in a neverending sleep
Some day I will wake up, and realize I made up everything

I shut the door and,
Turn all the lights out
And listen to all the songs that the night shouts
(They go something just like this)
So, go fill up a glass with tonic rocks and gin and drink yourself to happiness

I'm stuck in a coma, stuck in a neverending sleep
Some day I will wake up, and realize I made up everything

We cannot hang ourselves (Around gold chandeliers)
A dream brought back to home (All the pain and fears)
Loose Lips have sunk this ship (To a shallow grave)
Washed up upon the rocks (I Won't Be Saved)

I Won't Be Saved
I'm stuck in a coma, stuck in a neverending sleep
And some day I will wake up, and realize I gave up everything

(I Won't) So follow your bliss, it reads on my chest (Be Saved)
(I Won't) I know I got it tattooed for a reason (Be Saved)
(I Won't) I shut the door and turn all the lights out (Be Saved)
(I Won't) And listen to all the song's that the night shouts (Be Saved)
