

September, Breath

I need a vision a straight line back to you just give me a reason to do what lovers do i need to know you don't say you ever did and if i can hold you
it's time to set me free
i can't breath my love
i'm swimming in the dark beside you can get you find a friend?
by you got me lost again
and following the path behind you but somehow i'm lost again it this the bitter end
for us
you could have been sunlight to my reflected moon i wonder december and you keep me cool and june we sure i get flying arising this the sky and we went to landing
our feelings come to die
can get you find a friend?
for us
i can't breath
i can't breath
i can't breath
i can't breath ... love
i can't breath
i can't breath
but somehow i lost again it's this the bitter end
for us
