

Serra Eric, The Endless Night

How many more novas in your eyes
How many more sparkles in the skies
How many more twinkles in your smile
How many more shadows to light
Till the night... till the endless night...
Zillion, trillion, billion, million...
How many more whispers on your breeze
How many more zephyrs to glide
How many more silent harmonies
How many more angels to fly
Till the night... till the endless night...
Please hold on
Don't run out
Tell me how to hold on to light
Don't run out
Zillion, trillion, billion, million...
How many more raindrops in your eyes
How many more rainbows will rise
How many more changes in your tide
How many more tears to dry
Till the night... till the endless night...
Please hold on
Don't run out
Tell me how to hold on to light
Tell me how to keep our love alive out of the law of time
Don't run out
How many more waves
How many more seasons
How many more heartbeats
How many more seconds...
