

SHADOWRISE, To Live and Die For

It is said that some lives
Are connected through time
Watching nightfall over the hourglass
As it takes her into Hell

Just realized
Your love is a lie
Blinding the eyes
Leading to my demise
You deserve to go down with me

Invoke the sorrow in me

I was bound to your calling
And dwelled where darkness was growing strong in your heart

You made me feel the stabs of a thousand swords
I needed a home, you just closed the door
You gave me dreams to live and die for
Then broke them all before my eyes

This is farewell
I'm not looking back
In front of me
Spectres of madness be
I am haunted forevermore

I was bound to your calling
I died where darkness was growing strong in your heart

You made me feel the stabs of a thousand swords
I needed a home, you just closed the door
You gave me dreams to live and die for
Then broke them all before my eyes

Realise you must take this into own hands
You decide the outcome of this raging torment
Nevermore rely on the power to create in your mind
Conceive, break free, break away, find yourself

Realise you must take this into own hands
You decide the outcome of this raging torment
Nevermore rely on the power to create in your mind
Conceive, break free, break away from this place and leave

Fight your curse
Find yourself and leave
Fight your curse
Find yourself and leave

You made me feel the stabs of a thousand swords
I needed a home, you just closed the door
You gave me dreams to live and die for
then broke them all before my eyes

Bleed
From a thousand wounds
Oh you just closed the door
Right in front of me
Broken dreams
Were to live and die for
Oh you just closed the door
Right in front of me
Broken dreams
