

Shakira, Dia de enero (English)

I knew you in day of January,
With the moon in my nose
And as I saw that eras sincere
In your eyes I lost myself That clumsy distraction and that sweet sensation
And now that we walked by the world
Like Eneas and Benitin
But my crazy love
Is your better doctor
I go to look after you,
the soul in pain
I go to look after you as new and everything is going to pass sides Soon the sun to shine
You more than nobody deserve to be happy Or you are going to see as they are healing your wounds Little by little Or you are going to be as the same life goes to praise off the salt that exceeds of the sea
And although you have been a foreigner Until in your own country
If I say 'that to beams you to you?'
And you cry of emotion feel abandonee
And although you seem confused with this walking slow
I know the reason that makes hurt your heart
For that reason I wanted make this song
Or you are going to see as they are healing your wounds
Little by little Or you are going to see as the same life is going to rest the salt that exceeds of the sea
