

Shakira feat. Alejandro Sanz, You (Tu, English)

I give you my waist and my lips, for when you want to kiss, I give you my madness and the few neurons they left me

My discolored shoes, the diary in which I write, I give even my sighs, but don't leave anymore

Because you are, my sun, the faith with I live
the strength of my voice
the feet I use to walk.
It is you my love, my desires to live the goodbye I don't know how to say because I will be never able to live without you

If one of these days you would decide to get away from me
I would close every door, so you could never go out
I give you my silence, I give you my nose,
I give you even my bones, but stay here.

Because you are, my sun, the faith with I live
the strength of my voice
the feet I use to walk.
It is you my love, my desires to laugh
the goodbye I don't know how to say because I will be never able to live...
...without you
