

Shane Hebert, Before Too Long

A cold sunday afternoon
The clouds gather over you
A long awaited point of view I've waited too long for the truth and honestly I can only wait a lifetime

Hopefully before too long you'll be mine

A cold and windy summers night
The truth lies where it is daylight
A long awaited warmth to unite Well I live a lie

and honestly I can only wait a lifetime
Hopefully before too long you'll be mine

The miles and miles between us (3x)

and honestly I can only wait a lifetime
Hopefully before too long you'll be mine
and honestly I can only wait a lifetime
Hopefully before too long you'll be mine
