

Shawn Mullins, North On 95

headed north on 95
it would be good for you yeah i was feelin very much alive and if i dont come back read a little kerouac now im stuck inside a line for a different view and im still lookin so tell me where did we go wrong i loaded up my van and left the promised land tryin to find a decent rhyme i saw a monarch butterfly spread its holy wings and fly and give me one more chance to prove you wrong beneath the velvet sun i watched her come undone and then disappear so i got out my old guitar and i dug down really hard i gotta ask you why youre still commin here and then a voice inside said and tell me where did we go wrong its hard to say where love turns cold and give me one more chance to prove you wrong we filled up fast and went down slow we never thought that we'd grow old enough to fake us out and make us fold and give me one more chance to prove you wrong tell me where did we go wrong