

Sheryl Crow, Love Is All There Is

Everyone is talking about me
How my heart is broken
But they dont see

When youre lonely inside
The world looks so carefree
When youre lonely inside
You just cant see

Does anybody want you
Does anybody need you
The question is

Does anybody want you
Does anybody need you
The question is
All I really know for certain, babe
Is that love is all there is

Every now and then
There comes a time
Someone comes along to change your mind

You believe its unwise
To give in to careless dreams
You believe its a prize
Youll never win

Does anybody want you
Does anybody need you
The question is
Does anybody want you
Does anybody need you
The question is
All I really know for certain, babe
Is that love is all there is

You believe its unwise
To give in to careless dreams
If you dont see that is why
You will never know

Does anybody want you
Does anybody need you
The question is
Does anybody want you
Does anybody need you
The question is
All I really know for certain, babe
Is that love is all there is
