

Sheryl Crow, Roller Skate

I like the sunshine bouncing off your mirror shades well I love that you love loving me can't you see?
I need a little more of your embrace but you start to panic you can't stand still you getting a message talk about a buzz kill

I, I, I, I, want some intention
I want to put you center stage
I, I, I, don't want competition so put your phone away
let's roller-skate

I've got your picture swimming around inside my head while all the kids snapping pics they can click on what they missed I kinda like real life instead we'll how about a little of that human touch? old school contact would it be asking too much?

I, I, I, I, want some intention
I want to put you center stage
I, I, I, don't want competition
so put your phone away
let's roller-skate

roller-skate!
let's go!

I, I, I, I, want some intention
I want to put you center stage
I, I, I, don't want competition
so put your phone away
let's roller-skate