

Shinichi Osawa, Foals

Why don't you pick me up like it's always been said
Well you know that I'm not that scared
We could go to the park where lovers play with sparks
I will show you that I am mundane

Why don't you pick me up like it's always been planned
I can show you an easy game
You stopped your car, far not too far
Is it your house that I see over there

You asked if I need the room but your windows are so small
Why don't you pick me up like it's always been said
Well you know that I'm not that scared

Rain,pain faintly hidden shame
In a hundred years I couldn't tell you what you were after
Rain,pain faintly hidden shame
In a thousand days I couldn't show you hundred bodies yielding

Foals can see what I'll never see and I'll
Never stay around
Cause you never keep your time for the one last game and I'll
Never stay around

Say as far as out, never stay around
Say as far as out, never stay around

Rain,pain faintly hidden shame
In a thousand days I couldn't show you hundred bodies yielding
Rain,pain faintly hidden shame
In a hundred years I couldn't tell you what you were after
Rain,pain faintly hidden shame
In a thousand days I couldn't show you hundred bodies yielding

Foals can see what I'll never see and I'll
Never stay around
Cause you never keep your time for the one last game and I'll
Never stay around

Taking all night's hide
Wrecking on your skin
Exit anxious bride
Wrapping on ice thin
