

Showoff, Let Down

Last night I had a dream about you. I haven't felt that way in such a long time.
I swear to God that you're eyes would be so blue, and I can't forget anything about you.

[Chorus]

I can't hold on, I've been breaking up and now I'm breaking down. I can't hold on, want just one little smile but someone let me down.

Last night I had a dream about you. I haven't felt that way in such a long time.
I swear to God that you're eyes would be so blue, and I can't forget anything about you.

[Chorus]

[Bridge]

When they brought me back to where you were, I heard the angels, they couldn't stop crying.
Their soft and broken tears created an ocean when they heard that you were dying.
