

Sick Of It All, Will We Survive

There comes a time in our lives to ask the question will we survive reach for a future within our grasp tryin' not to lose hold of our past all these decisions comin' on got to keep perspective of what's right and what's wrong bonds that were made, in the past hope they survive, hope they will last 'cause it's your voices that make us strong for that reason alone we must go on, we must go on

So when the time comes in our lives
with all the shit that we've been through there's only one answer that would be true we found an outlet we can trust without this release i know we would bust

Took alot of shit in our lives, made it thru time after time i know we will survive
we, we will survive
we, we will survive
