

Silverchair, Undecided

Ohh, there's no time,
To choose for yourself.
It's like the candle's lit at both ends now,
Deteriorating health.

Parent's breakin' up,
Wish they would decide,
Whether to stay together
Can't make up their minds,

They wonder why you need someone,
You get no freedom at all.
They want you to drop down and conform,
They make your self-esteem fall.

Undecided, can't make up their mind
Your parents collided and left you behind

If there's a lock to their minds,
Can you tell me please.
I'll be straight,
Straight to get the keys.

[Chorus]

Her mother doesn't even know her name...
Undecided.
If there is trouble, well she just gets the blame,
But denies it.

[Chorus]
