

Silverheart, Thanatos

Hey young man your time has come
You always knew that one day I'd seek you
Don't try to run, I'm everywhere
There's no way to escape the death

I will guide you along the road
Where you will go, It's the Underworld
What you have done you will pay
Don't be afraid accept your fate

Since the beginning of time
Until the last corner of the Earth
I have done this work before
And I'll do it till the end

You are alone in this trip
Even your money can not help
No more sunsets or full moons
This will be your life's last page

I am the night
The whisper too cold
Hunter of light
Watching the door
You really wish
I weren't here
But I'm in charge
And you'll come with me

Stupid human, he never wants to die
The most pathetic of all the species
Vainly trying to live forever
Live life an as immortal
I'm getting sick of you, always beggin for mercy
So shut up and listen

DEATH, HONOR! ACCEPT YOUR FATE (No! Let me go!)

I am the night,
The whisper too cold,
Hunter of light
Watching the door
You really wish
I wasn't here
But I'm in charge
And you'll come with me
