

Sister Hazel, Where Do You Go

Broke the ring around it
I can't think about it
I can barely start to even wrap my head around it

Waters rise around us
Sinking ships around us
I can't believe she even found a way inside to drown us

I'm not so sure anymore what's next
Or if there's anything left for us
What will we find inside of the wreck
Yeah we both know it's all just washed away

Where do you go and what do you do
All you have left is hanging on you
Where do you go and what do you do
When you lose everything you ever knew

Shine a light into it
Shoot a canon through it
Spill it all and hope you find a way to make it through it
'Cause down is up and up is down
And love lies dying all on the ground
You find a line that's in the sand and figure out who drew it

[Pre Chorus]
[Chorus]

Broke the ring around it
I can't think about it
I can barely start to even wrap my head around it

'Cause down is up and up is down
And love lies dying all on the ground
You find a line that's in the sand and figure out who drew it

[Chorus x2]
