Skin, Trashed

Im like a soldier With no cause to fight Playing with bar boys To test you just right

I watch your features I check for a sign Of some kind of failure Then I feel sublime

Now I know I have to live without you I can only bend so far Guess its time to make some moves without you Now youve gone and trashed my heart

Solid demeanor I look good a feat Still Im too vicous To take on defeat

Yes I hear You dont feel this any more I see Theres nothing to believe in anymore Just two snitches on heat Still avoiding the grief Because it felt so hard
