

Skinlab, Anthem For A Fallen Star

I never felt like this before Today's the day that I'm spitting the venom My mother told me there'd be days like this but keep an open mind and keep your shit together Anger control
And I'm living a godamn lie and now I'm watching the falling stars surrounding me,
surrounding me
Disguise the masquerade It's not as sacred as it seems
and now I'm watching the falling stars surrounding me,
surrounding me
(Fifteen minutes of fame)
The sky is turning Grey and the people are still the same
and now I'm watching the falling stars surrounding me
I never felt so disposable here today and gone tomorrow
One time to get it right son
Make the decision to sign the deal with the devil Refust to comply
We choose to do this our own way and now we're wathcing the falling stars staring at me, staring at me.
