

Slash, Driving Rain (FT. MYLES KENNEDY & TH

left her heart in a letter said she'd never been better but now I know

my original sin
she is down once again oh, no!

it's been so long can't remember the last time you know it's been so long
so I'm on my way

her love is calling me home
seems to guide the way
so I won't stop now

to avoid all confusion she said she's been using oh not again

oh. but my fear of losing the girl always gets me home cause she knows

still some things will never change I know it's been so long

through the deiving rain
but I won't stop now

she's' the dark to light she's never satisfied she always seems to find a reason to hope that I'll come back tonight that I will wrong the rights she pulled my strings yet again so here we go
