

Sławek Uniatowski, Stay

Stay a long enough for me to say I love you
I never say the word that I want to
As you walking away
Gray, the color of the sky before it's raining
Suddenly the thunder is fading
Yes, it's fading away

Don't you know I give everything I own
I trade my soul just to make you turn around
Now, I know if I make it all alone,
But in time I try to be stronger
Is my heart keeps breaking

Home, inside we're ones together
I hidden from the stormy weather
Where the love was alone
Time, the place between a memory and a ending
All the lovely bless I can sending
Take me everywhere you go

Don't you know I did everything I own?
I train ma soul, just to make it turn around
Now, I know if I make it all alone,
But in time I try to be stronger
Is my heart keeps breaking

And time goes by
And time goes by
And time goes by
And time goes by

Don't you know I did everything I own?
I train ma soul, just to make it turn around
Now, I know if I make it all alone,
But in time I try to be stronger
Is my heart keeps breaking

Stay, a long enough for me to say I love you
I never say the word that I want to?
