

Sloan, I Wouldn't Want To Lose Your Love

(M. Goodwyn/April Wine - Stand Back, 1975)

Easy now
Don't let our love go wrong
I'd never hurt you,
Or mean you any harm
Darling, can't you see

I wouldn't want to lose your love
I wouldn't want to lose your love
I couldn't stand the pain
You know it'd drive me insane
Darling, I need your love

And if tomorrow
Would be easier for you
And there's nothing that I could say or Nothing I could do
Well darling, please come home

You know I wouldn't want to lose your love
I wouldn't want to lose your love
I couldn't stand the pain
You know it'd drive me insane
Darling, I need your love

You're tellin' me
That I've been foolish this time
You're tellin' me
That I don't know my own mind
But darling, can't you see

You know I wouldn't want to lose your love
I wouldn't want to lose your love
I couldn't stand the pain
You know it'd drive me insane
Darling, I need your love
(Love love love love...)
Darling, I need your love
(Love love love love...)