

Smolik, RUN (feat. Kev Fox)

Now and then when you feel like war
You know that time has elapsed you better hold that thought
And run wherever I will run

If you stay another night then
I think you'll have to stay your whole life

Stay with me feel the warmth inside
Put those cold dark feelings
To the back of your mind
Run until you hurt your pride

If you stay another night then
I think you'll have to stay your whole life

Dance with me, if you want your heart wrenched out
By another lost angel with a scar on her back
Run and ill run with you

If you stay another night then
I think you'll have to stay your whole life
