

Snowpony, A Car I Didn't Own

I cashed that cheque with my eyes wide open
And now I can't close them
I only have arms where my wings should have been
And I feel that I'm falling

It's too late to be afraid
Let's go for a walk in the park
It's too late to be ashamed
It's too late to be afraid of the dark

I looked both ways when I held your hand
My fingers got stolen
I crashed that car with my eyes wide open
And I didn't own it

It's too late to run away
They already know who you are
It's too late to be ashamed
It's too late to be afraid of your heart

I went to the devil to sell my soul
But he already owned it
I only have arms where my wings should have been
And I feel that I'm falling

It's too late to be ashamed
Let's go for a walk in the park
It's too late to be afraid
It's too late to be scared of the sharks
