

So They Say, Break The Silence

you don't call or write for years and if you think you know then state the obvious screams inside your eyes and i said enough don't blink and take this i promise that i've let you down it's all i need to hear for now and anything but this i'll cover my eyes and wait for anything but this

light to break the silence and hold a hand that once gets in i'll cover my eyes and pull you in so close oh don't you seem sincere if you ask me what i want the words disappear because i held it in too long and i think you need to hear what i believe is the only reason that my prayers have fallen on deaf ears

and anything but this
and hold a hand that once gets in

break the silence

and hold a hand that once gets in
