

Social Burn, Everyone

How was I to know you'd ever leave
How was I to know you cared for me
When everytime I looked at you
You acted like I was a fool
How was I to know the truth

But somehow I know
That we're gonna be alright
But somehow I know
We're gonna be fine

How was I to know that I was wrong
When I was talking during your favorite song
How was I to know that I was right
When I caught you in your lies the other night

But somehow I know
That we're gonna be alright
But somehow I know
We're gonna be fine

With all the times you ran away
I never thought that you would say
I'm the one who's lonely now
And all the times I never said
"I love you" Now you're in the bed
With somebody and everyone else

Everyone...yea (x3)
With somebody and everyone else

With all the times you ran away
I never thought that you would say
I'm the one who's lonely now
And all the times I never said
"I love you" Now you're in the bed
With somebody and everyone else

Everyone...yea (x3)
With somebody and everyone else
