

Sōlborn, Catch Me When I Fall

Here we stand, this crossroad
Looking back at how we've both grown
She's a wilting passionflower
He can't bare to live without her

This feeling is fading away
Like the light of a dying day

And if I had just one more chance
Just one more moment to save our love...

Not always right, but never wrong
Too late to save, it's too far gone - gone
Hand in hand I look at you
It hurts so bad but we must do this...

Feeling is fading away
Like the light of a dying day

And if I had just one more chance
Just one more moment to save our love
To you I'd say, I give you my all
If you catch me when I fall for you
All over again

You filled the void
Put joy in my tears
Me without you
Won't be the same
In my heart
Until the grave

And now I have just one more chance
Just one more lifetime to find new love
To you I say, I give you my all
As you catch me when I fall for you
All over again
All over again
