

Someday Never, It Broke The Boy's Back

So say what you want to
You have said enough
I'll sing for you always
If you can't save yourself

Cadence sets in the moment I look away
For my tear soaked pillow no longer holds my head

So I reach out
My conscience will keep me awake
So I breathe in
I strive for this sacrifice
So I reach out
I hold myself up anyway
I breathe you in

I'll say what I want to
While at a loss for words
So say what you want to
You have said enough
As long as you're ok
As long as you can dwell
I'll sing for you always
But you can't save me now

So I reach out
My conscience will keep me awake
So I breathe in
I strive for this sacrifice
So I reach out
I hold myself up anyway
I breathe you in

I breathe you in
As you breathe me out
