

Sophie Ellis-Bextor, Everything is Sweet

It's like I live in a shadow
Shrouded in darkness
I only move where the clouds go
And how do I shake this
Because I want you to see me
Yeah, I want you to notice
But I'm in no hurry
And my longing is endless

I, I wait so patiently to show you what I hide
Please come to me
Walk into the light

Where everything is sweet and lovely
And nothing bad ever happens
Maybe then you would love me
And my smile wouldn't hide the sadness
Take me to a place enchanted
Take me to a heavenly fortress
Where everything is sweet and lovely
Tell me that you dream about us

I'm getting stronger in secret
They only see what I show them
I'm an invisible witness
And my silence is golden

I, I see you clearer every day, I know I'm right
One day we will walk into the light

Everything is sweet and lovely
And nothing bad ever happens
Maybe then you would love me
And my smile wouldn't hide the sadness
Take me to a place enchanted
Take me to a heavenly fortress
Where everything is sweet and lovely
Tell me that you dream about us

Everything is sweet
Everything is sweet
Everything is sweet
Yeah, everything is sweet
Everything is sweet
Yeah, everything is sweet

Everything is sweet and lovely
And nothing bad ever happens
Maybe then you would love me
And my smile wouldn't hide the sadness
Take me to a place enchanted
Take me to a heavenly fortress
Where everything is sweet and lovely
Tell me that you dream about us

Everything is sweet
Yeah, everything is sweet
Everything is sweet
Yeah, everything is sweet
