

Span, Found (Live on SBN March '03)

This feeling stings like a papercut a constant draft from the door I can't shut my legs are sleeping,
my body is weeping,
I am searching.

An insatiable lust that can not be fulfilled an annoying bug that I can never quite kill a human disorder
a life on the border, a lack of a plan.

There is something lurking in the back of my mind (inexplicably gone from my) my mind (inexplicably gone)
vital information that can not be found.

I'm left here stripped to my own free will my mind is set on this proverbial kill as I fill my days with egocentric waste never evolving.

This powerful urge that is pulling me forth a constant drive I am unable to ignore leaving my sleepless, holding my breath as my heart is pacing.

There is something lurking in the back of my mind (inexplicably gone from my) my mind (inexplicably gone)
vital information that can not be found

But I just can't leave it alone,
found,
but I just can't leave it alone,
found (inexplicably gone from my mind)
can't be found (inexplicably gone from my mind)
can't be found (inexplicably gone from my mind) no, it can't be found (inexplicably gone)

There is something lurking in the back of my mind vital information that can not be found x2

But I just can't leave it alone,
found,
but I just can't leave it alone,
found
but I just can't leave it alone, no it can't be found
but I just can't leave it alone (inexplicably gone from my mind)
can't leave it alone
(inexplicably gone)
Can't leave it alone
(inexplicably gone from my mind)
can't leave it alone