

Splinter, Positively Negative

Well I just don't understand it Things just never go my way

My mum's only got one kid and she still forgot my birthday

Well I just don't understand it

All my friends make so much cash

They're all kicking ass and I'm still collecting trash

I know the sun is out today, but it always seems to rain at my place

I know that luck won't come, I just slipped on a black cat and broke the mirror in the hallway

I know that I should wish you well, you won the lottery but that don't do shit for me

I know that that nothing's going my way, I'm positively negative and looking for a lucky break

Well I just can't understand it

My car's always getting smashed

But I'm scared to take the train cause I'm only gonna get bashed

Well I just can't comprehend it

Chicks just never look my way

The only chance to get into their pants is to start wearing lingerie

I'm positively negative

I'm positively negative
