

Split Shift, Breathe

And ill just try to reconcile our past
And my thought are fearing what you'll
Say to me your attitude is what drives me further away
And its not what I want in my life
And my breath gets shorter

Im trapped inside a feeling
Im living on a moment
Im breathing in a wake of your new focus

Now its time to make a choice of what I want
Procrastination fills my mind with Broken thoughts that erase in time
My faults are showing so please
Just leave me alone so my
Breath will shorten

Im trapped inside
And im always breathing
Im always breathing