

Spoon, Back To The Life

Son you must go back to the life
go pack your bags
take up your scythe
cause this world wasnt meant for us both

who made the night
who made the day
who gave you life
who gave you say
i said this world wasnt meant for us both

who rules the day
who rules the night
go pack your bags

I took a river and it wouldnt let go i want you to stay and i want you to go i took a river and the river was long and it goes on

i want to be there tonight i want to get there but its just out of sight i took a river and felt so slight so hold on

so hold on
n hold on it goes on

i took a river and the river was long i want you to stay course i want you to go i took a river and the river was long and goes on

it goes on
ooh it goes on
it goes on
