

Stabilizers, Does Your Love Lie Open?

Somewhere - between now and then
I look at you again
And something new begins
Beyond your face there is no crowd
Beyond your voice I hear no sound

So now I'll take it slow
But I've got to know...
Does your love lie open?
Is it ready - to be taken?
When it comes to the bottom line
Will your love lie open wide?

When you - turn to walk away
The light begins to fade
Nothing seems the same
I never knew how this could be
It never felt so good to me
I'm helpless in this doubt
I've got to find out...

So now it's time to get this straight
I see no reason we should wait
It's all within one touch
And once is never enough...
