

Stan Mi, Morning lullabies

I need a little kiss from you every morning when you wake it's the things you do help me breath, give me reason to believe in me and you and it seems so hard to let these days fly by in the end it's all I do come along sing a lullaby from me to you and I don't know when and I don't know quiet how it's come to be, us
from me to you, child and you can cry all you want I'll be there for you when all the roads are given I'll be forgiven to
