

Stanfour, Heart Skipped A Beat

Howling wind, driving rain will I ever see the sun again?
Feeling weak, so fatigued.
Hated my life, but could not weep.
No ray of hope, no light insight.
It all went wrong, just never right.
Then came the day you entered my life.

My heart skipped a beat.
I almost went blind.
Was swept off my feet.
You're blowing my mind.
The world I once knew
is no longer true.
You've changed my whole life forevermore.

My heart skipped a beat, oh, oh,....
oh, oh, suddenly I saw you.

And now that you saved me from myself.
I just feel like new again.
My world has changed, you broke me free.
Never thought I'd ever be watching the birds up in the sky and feel like I'm flying just as high.
They remind me of you.

My heart skipped a beat.
I almost went blind.
Was swept off my feet.
Your blowing my mind.

The world I once knew
is no longer true.
You've change my whole life forevermore.
My heart skipped a beat, oh, oh...

Oh, oh, I saw you.
