

Staring Back, What You Came For

What did you think when it first crossed your mind?
Did you see beauty? You saw reflections of yourself
What did you expect to find me hiding behind the scenes?
I saw what you were never meant to see Pieces of your life they never fit together everlasting was the struggle and the burning flame inside Hiding away the demons controlling thoughts controlling feelings
What did you think you'd come to innocence was lost too long ago find out what you came for
What did you think when it first crossed your mind?
It wasn't long ago you had it deep inside
What did you expect to find? You found answers
What did you think you'd come to innocence was lost so long ago find out what you came for now