

Stars, Bitches In Tokyo

You can write my place
Out of the life you make
And all the things that mattered
When you knew my face
Cross off all the ways I failed you
'Cause I failed you
But I'm still in your blood
You're still in my blood

A time when all our mistakes
Made sense, you needed it
A time when all the lying
Sympathized with sin
All this sabotage and blame
Well, I can take it
'Cause I just want you back
I just want you back

Temporary battles
Can take up half your life
How you dig your bed
Will it help you sleep at night?
Forgiveness like a blanket
That you want to forget
But you still crumble at my name
You still crumble at my name

A time when all our mistakes
Made sense, you needed it
A time when all the lying
Sympathized with sin
All this sabotage and blame
Well, I can take it
'Cause I just want you back
I just want you back
